Treats & Chews

The treat category is the fastest-growing food type in pet specialty retail stores. About 40 percent of the new pet food items launched every year are treats. There are so many treat brands, and such an abundance of new items entering in the market all the time, that treats lend themselves to in-person shopping and discovering new, fun snacks for pet owners. They are called treats for a reason, right? And, in today's world, they may be as much an indulgence for shop-loving owners as for pets.
